Temple Beth El Services Told

Temple Beth El of San Pedro will hold Day of Atonement services on Sunday, Oct. 11, at 8:30 p.m. and through the day, Oct. 12.

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, marks the high point in Jewish religious experience. It is a fast day and a day of asking God's forgiveness for all sins whether these sins were committed consciously or unconsciously, willingly or unwillingly, knowingly or unknowingly.

Rabbi Leonard A. Helman, spiritual leader of Temple Beth El will preach at the evening service on "If God is God" and will consider the meaning of the Book of Job to modern life. In the morning at 11 a.m., the Rabbi will preach on "The Sin Which We Have Sinned," discussing the nature of sin in modern society.

The choir under the direction of Mr. Jerome Lewin will sing the traditional Yom Kippur music beginning with the Kol Nidre. The Temple Beth El Choir will consist of Donald Ogren, baritone; Ray Aribzu, tenor; Marianna Brinkerhoff, contralto; Maralin Niska, soprano; and Betty Abramson, contralto, with Dorothy Searcy as organist and Jerry Lewin as director.

Witnesses Optimistic After Talks

Jehovah's Witnesses of Torrance Congregation returned from the Long Beach Assembly confident of God's will being done on earth in our generation.

Leonard Olliff, presiding minister said, "The scriptural proof most outstanding to the 3286 delegates was contained in the main talk of the Assembly delivered by Bruce E. Giffin, District Supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses, the subject being "When Is God's Will to be Done on Earth?"

Because we are living in a world of conformity we cannot look to Governments of the world to bring about God's Will. His will must come to pass, but only by the action of His Kingdom through Jesus Christ.

"The speaker," said Olliff, "answered such questions as, what is God's will, how will it come to pass, when will God's will come to Earth, and most important, how can persons assure themselves life when God's will is done on earth."

Temple Beth El Services Told

On Sunday afternoon, in keeping with the anniversary celebration, members and friends will be the guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Isbell as they hold Open House at the church parsonage, 15506 Cerise Ave. This event offers opportunities for the congregation of the local church to visit the parsonage and to get acquainted with the pastor and his wife. Of particular interest to the ladies was the collection of historical dolls dressed in authentic costume. There was a whole case of famous Ravca dolls, some of his original collection, some of a later date made in this country after studying its history.
